MEMORANDUM FOR RECORDSUBJECT: DOD Information Analysis Center*REFERENCE: DOD Instruction #100-45, July 28, 1964

1. At the request of [] attended a meeting on 17 September chaired by Mrs. D. Spiegler, office, Director Technical Information, IDR&E (Walter Carlson), to discuss CIA access to subject centers.
2. [] led off the discussion by stating the sole purpose of the meeting was to determine how CIA could be accredited to each of the twenty-two (22) DOD Information Analysis Centers in order to obtain services as provided for in Section III, Policy, of referenced instruction.
3. Mrs. Spiegler said there was no problem and thought we could obtain such access through the service which monitors the analysis centers. She also wanted to know whether CIA could allocate any funds toward this DOD program.
4. [] stated that CIA wants direct access to these centers. He also advised that this CIA group had no authority to even discuss the allocation of funds to this DOD program. He did display the CIA correspondence to Hon. Eugene Fubini, Deputy Director R&E, regarding CIA access to Form 613 information retrieval runs from DDC; and Mr. Fubini's memorandum directive to DDC authorizing CIA unlimited access to this retrieval and documentary services.
5. [] advised that CIA is already providing direct and indirect support of these analysis centers by making its entire intelligence production available to the DOD. In turn selected items are provided to DOD contractors under USIB policy directive USIB-D-39-5/19. Specific reference was made to SORO and the CIA intelligence document and intello-fax runs made available through channels for their classified Handbook and Country Study Programs.
6. Mrs. Spiegler asked that an official memorandum form DD S&T be sent to Dr. Fubini requesting that CIA be granted direct access to available services at each of the twenty two information centers. She also asked that [] provide an informal paper outlining the specific points CIA would like covered in the IDR&E directive to the twenty two centers authorizing CIA access to information and/or documentation available in each.
